

This well designed, wheelchair accessible walk is in the Royal National Park. The concrete path starts at the Area Office car park, passes a picnic area, then winds gently down through the bush. The path leads to a great lookout, where you can enjoy views over the Hacking River and a large part of the Royal National Park. Take your time to read the signs and enjoy the plants and rock formations along the way.

Start of Bungoona Path to Bungoona Picnic area 0km

(From S) From the 'Bungoona Path' information sign, this walk follows the concrete footpath, away from the car park to come to the picnic area visible through the trees.

Bungoona Picnic area

Bungoona Picnic area in the Royal National Park, is found at the start of the Bungoona Path near the area office car park. The picnic area provides 4 picnic tables, a tap and drinking fountain. The tables are not specifically designed for people in wheelchairs and access is across open ground. There is a reasonable amount of natural shade and the picnic area is not as heavily used as some of the other areas in the park.

Bungoona Picnic area to Bungoona Lookout 0.4km 5 mins

(From 0.01 km) Continue straight: From the Picnic area, this walk follows the concrete footpath away from the car park. The path is flat and smooth and winds through bush. Along the way there are several sections with hand rails and some bench seats to stop and enjoy the area. The information signs along the way provide great insight into the local environment. The track soon comes to an intersection (with a set of stairs leading to the management trail, on the left). Turn right: From the intersection, this walk passes the large rock as the footpath bends to the right. The path then bends again and comes to the fenced and signposted 'Bungoona Lookout'.

Bungoona Lookout

Bungoona Lookout in the Royal National Park, is a fenced wheelchair accessible lookout. The lookout provides fantastic views over the Hacking River and distant views across the tops of the surrounding hills. The lookout has a couple of bench seats and an information sign. This is a great place to stop and enjoy the surrounding bushland and panoramic views.

This is a 'Return' style walk - retrace your steps back to the beginning when you are ready.
