

With much to offer, this walk is a great way to explore the history, water, views and bushland of Nielsen Park. This walk first leads past Shark Bay - a great place for a swim - with the chance to enjoy the views and grab a bite to eat from the cafe. Then, it's up some steps to visit the historic gun emplacement and onto Greycliffe House. Then you head up through the bush over 'Mt Trefle' and take a short walk along Vaucluse Rd, bringing you back into Nielsen Park.

Greycliffe Ave Car Park to Nielsen Park Cafe 0.2km 3 mins

(From S) From the lower end of the car park on Greycliffe Ave, this walk heads around the gate and along the sealed path (driveway) towards the water, passing the 'Sydney Harbour National Park' sign. After ~50m, the path leads to a four-way intersection just past the garbage bins.

Continue straight: From the intersection, this walk heads towards the water following the wide path. The path soon bends left (near the toilet block, on the right) and heads behind the beach, past the large information sign. Soon the path heads over the 'Dressing Pavilion' tunnel and, ~50m later, comes to the front of the Nielsen Park Cafe with its great water views.

Shark Bay

Located at the northern end of Nielsen Park, this beach faces north across Sydney Harbour. The sandy beach offers a swimming net enclosure, public toilets and change rooms, showers and is a popular place for people to simply relax. The beach is a focal point of Nielsen Park and also boasts a cafe. Protected by the harbour, there is no surf at this beach. The beach is not patrolled. This is a lovely spot, with natural shade not far from the beach.

Nielsen Park Cafe

Open 8-5 daily, this historic cafe offers inside seating and a range of meals, including breakfast, sandwiches and hot food. This is one of a number of buildings in Nielsen Park which are available for functions. For further enquiries, contact 9337 1574. More info

Nielsen Park Cafe to Western end of Shark Bay 0.1km 1 mins

Western end of Shark Bay to Greycliffe House 0.1km 3 mins Alternative ROUTE:

(From 0.28 km) Turn sharp left: From the intersection, this walk heads directly away from the water and up the path then steps, towards the grand building on top of the hill (not following the 'Hermitage Forest Walking track' sign). The path heads past the sandstone toilet block (on your right) and then at the top of the hill, the path bends to the right, in front of the 'Greycliffe House' information sign, coming to the driveway and a four-way intersection, in front of Greycliffe House. Continue straight to rejoin the main walk, following the notes from 0.45km 'Greycliffe House'.

Western end of Shark Bay to Degaussing range 0.1km 2 mins

(From 0.28 km) Continue straight: From the intersection, this walk follows the 'Hermitage Foreshore Walking Track' sign up the stairs. The path soon flattens out through the open grassy area, and heads up a few more steps to come to an intersection with a road (driveway) next to the fenced degaussing range (on your right).

Degaussing range

This degaussing range, found at Steele Point, was constructed in 1960 and is still operated by the Royal Australian Navy today. Degaussing is the process of removing (or at least reducing) a magnetic field. This degaussing range services four areas in the harbour (about 500m from the building), where metal ships passing over will be automatically de-magnetised. Why? Mostly to prevent the triggering of seabed mines. More info

Degaussing range to Steele Point Gun Emplacement 0.1km 1 mins Optional Side Trip:

Steele Point Gun Emplacement

Construction of this initial emplacement took about three years and was completed in 1874. The sandstone pit once had a steel dome (to protect from shells) and was part of a series of gun emplacements protecting from the threat of invasion. Today, you will find a series of tall sandstone channels and the circular pit where the main gun once stood. A set of un-railed steps leads into the pit - please take care in the area, as the pit is not fenced.

Degaussing range to Greycliffe House 0.1km 2 mins

(From 0.35 km) Turn left: From the degaussing range, this walk follows the 'Greycliffe House' sign along the road (driveway), following the tall hedge. The road soon leads past a small car park and then bends right, entering into the grounds of Greycliffe House. Just past the small sandstone wall, the road comes to a four-way intersection (with some steps on the right and an information sign on the left).

Greycliffe House

Greycliffe House was completed in 1851 by John Reeve, son-in-law to the explorer W C Wentworth. The house was unoccupied between 1898 and 1911, when it was taken over by the State Government and used as a baby hospital and Tresillian mothercraft home in to the 1930s. Many of the plantings are from this era. Today, the building is home to the Sydney Harbour South office of the NSW National Parks and Wildlife Service, and is one of few remaining examples of gothic architecture in Sydney. More info

Greycliffe House to NP Workshop driveway 0.5km 10 mins

(From 0.45 km) Turn right: From in front of Greycliffe House, this walk follows the 'Vaucluse Rd Via Mt Trefle' sign up the steps. The track soon bends left and heads high past Greycliffe House and a 'Surviving the City' information sign. The track then gently winds through the bush over Mt Trefle (the high point, but not very high), coming to a 'Greycliffe House' sign pointing back along the track, just near the back of the fenced workshop. Here the walk continues to generally follow the fence around the NP workshop. Heading along the side of the workshop, there is a view of some houses on Vaucluse Rd. At the front of the workshop, this walk turns left to follow the driveway down to find a 'T' intersection with a wider road (driveway).

NP Workshop driveway to Boomgate on Vaucluse Rd 0.1km 1 mins

(From 0.99 km) Turn left : From the intersection, this walk follows the wide driveway towards Vaucluse Rd and the boom gate (Keeping the fence and grassy clearing on your right). The walk heads around the boom gate and past the 'Sydney Harbour National Park - Nielsen Park' sign, coming to an intersection with Vaucluse Rd.

Boomgate on Vaucluse Rd to Southern end of Nielsen Park 0.1km 1 mins

(From 1.05 km) Veer left: From the intersection, this walk follows the 'Nielsen Park Entrance 400' sign along the side of Vaucluse Rd (or crosses to the footpath on the other side) and soon comes to an intersection at the top of some steps (on your left) at the southern end of Nielsen Park.

Southern end of Nielsen Park to Greycliffe Ave Car Park 0.6km 5 mins

(From 1.13 km) Turn left: From the intersection, this walk heads down the steps, along the footpath and through the open park. The walk ignores the side tracks and, after ~210m, the path leads past an old house, then continues past more side tracks to find the back of the Nielsen Park Cafe. Here, the walk heads to the front of the cafe to find Shark Bay and the beach.

Turn right: From Nielsen Park Cafe, this walk heads along the path, keeping the beach and water to your left. After ~50m, the path heads over the 'Dressing Pavilion' tunnel and soon passes a large information sign. At the sign, the path bends right and then comes to a four-way intersection near a large number of garbage bins.

Continue straight: From the intersection, this walk follows the wide sealed path (driveway) directly away from the water, past the garbage bins. The path soon leads past the 'Sydney Harbour National Park' sign and through the gate to Greycliffe Ave.
